Any complaints to be made of unwarranted assess ments, and petitions for the reduction of the same, should be handed in at once. SENT TO THE HOSPITAL.-Yesterday morn ing, about eight o'clock, a white man, apparently a laborer, was found lying ill in a vacant lot in Church street, near St. Michael's alley He appeared to be suffering terribly. The matter was reported at the Guardhouse, and the sick man was conveyed at once to the City Hospital, where he received every attention.

OUICE TIME TO CAMDEN. - The Journal says: "Freight shipped from New York on the 7th instant, by the great Southern freight line, via Charleston and steamer, was received on the 11th instant. The South Carolina Railroad have made such arrangements as that goods or freight of any kind shipped from Cha-leston in the morning arrives here the the dollar. Chloride of lime can be had on application at the Upper and Lower Guardhouses and at the City Hospital.

THE PORT ROYAL RAILROAD .- The Beaufort Republican has the following news about this

The new locomotive No. 2, named S. C. Millett, is on the way, and will soon be put on the road. The track is laid to the trestle work at Whale Branc!., and the drawbridge is being put in place. A sufficient amount of Iron is now there to lay the track near to Saltwater Bridge, and the amount now on board the Altoona, which has arrived, will complete the track to the dock at Deep Water. It is the intention of the superintendent to commence running freight trains in October over the finished part of the road, to connect with Savannah and Charleston trains at Yemassee. Three new saw mills are being built on the line of the road above Yemassee, which, with those now there, will ship 1,009,000 feet of lumber per month if facilities for snipping are furnished. The Port Royal Rallroad can deliver it at Deep Water at much less rates than low there to lay the track near to Saltwater furnished. The Fort Royal liver it at Deep Water at much less rates than it can be delivered at Charleston or Savannah. This looks like progress.

BRICKBATTING .- This amusement, a favorite one with the street Arabs from time immemorial, was particularly annoying when the little martins and swallows were flying low in the street after a rain storm or in threatening weather. The birds seemed rather to enjoy the fin of foiling the murderous attempts of the throwers, but the unlucky pedestrians who were compelled to pass through a favorite flying-ground became a vicarious sacrifice. About 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, a lady who was walking along King street, near Woolfe, narrowly escaped being struck in the face by one of these dangerous missiles. A gentleman pointed out the thrower to the police and he was arrested. The culprit, whose name is March Wilton, was duly brought before the Mayor, who, thinking that one night in the Guardhouse was a sufficient lesson, discharged the offender with a reprimand.

CLUBS AND STARS .-- Edward Thompson, lodged for being disorderly and fighting in a house in Church street, was discharged. Francis Jenkins, reported for careless driving and breaking the sidewalk with his cart wheel in Market street, was ordered to repair the dame. Ben Bown, a colored rustic, arrested for trespassing upon the premises No. 54 Bull street, was allowed to depart to his home in St. Andrew's. Rachel Maxwell, for indecent behavior in St. Philip street, was sent to the House of Correction for five days.

P. Meitzler, reported for digging into the earth and placing a post in front of his residence in King street, was fined five dollars. Fred. Small, lodged on suspicion of having stolen a bag of clothing, is held for further examination.

A cross man, who was taken up from the sidewalk in Meeting street, pleaded the first offence, and was discharged.

THE LATE JOHN GLOVER CRANE.-Letters received here by his friends bring the melancholy intelligence of the death of Mr. Crane, which took plage on the 7th instant at his plantation near Washington, Ga. Mr. Crane was a native of Wilkes County, Ga., and came to this city in Cotober, 1840, being then in the thirty-fourth year of his age. In 1842 he entered the firm of Townsend, Crane & Co. as a copartner, and continued a partner of the various firms succeeding this one until January, been residing principally on his plantation, where he died after a short illness. Mr. Crane was well known from the Mississippi to South Carolina, and few men had a more extended social and business acquaintance than he. In exactness and mercantile integrity he was excelled by none, and few men, in the same line of business, have done as much as he for the material advancement and prosperity of Charleston. To the last he looked toward his adopted city with the love of a native Charlestonian, and his letters up to within two days of his death show that he regarded this city as his home, and that he longed to return and end his days here. #### THE HEALTH OF THE CITY.

The proceedings of the meeting of the Howard Association, held yesterday, are highly re- by Detectives Davis and Burke upon various assuring. Not only has that noble organization | charges. A silver watch, found in her possesdone its work faithfully and well, but it is able, besides, to assure the public that the number the pocket of the possessor while she was on a of cases of vellow fever is rapidly decreasing, and that the proportion of deaths to the whole number of cases grows less every day. The association show, moreover, by uncontrovertible facts drawn from the experience of this season, that most of the severest cases of yellow fever can be cured, where the patient is of temperate habits and has good nursing and prompt medical attention.

Two certificates of death were received from 12 o'clock M. on Thursday to the same hour yesterday, viz: O. B. Collins, who died on Wednesday, and John Viohls, who died on Thursday. The total number of deaths from July 25 to

The Howard Association-Cheering Reports.

The regular weekly meeting of the executive committee of the Howard Association took place yesterday at the Market Hall, President James H. Taylor in the chair.

Letters of application for membership, each Alexander Melchers, were read, and the rules having been suspended, the applicants were elected members of the association by acclamation.

The committee from each ward then made their several reports, showing that during the week twenty-eight applications for aid to the sick had been received, and that the association had now under its care twenty-six cases of sickness, involving the employment of seventeen nurses, at a cost of $2 each a day.

The popular rumors in regard to the appearance of the fever in various streets were ound to dwindle into nothingness, when investigated by the committeemen. For instance, Mr. Lowndes, from Ward 2, reported that he heard that two brothers living in Orange street had desperate cases of yellow fever. He immediately set out to call on them. On his way to the house the report was corroborated by persons in the very street. Upon ringing at the bell he was met by a lady, who, upon his making known his errand, said there must be some mistake in the matter; there were two brothers there, but they had no yellow fever, and would be out in a few

During the reading of these reports, Mr. Hanckel, of Ward 4, said that, believing that the stampede from the city had been ceased principally by the prevalent idea that no one ever recovered from the fever, he deemed it his duty to state that he had under his care three confirmed cases of yellow-fever. One of these had black vomit, and bleeding from the nose, but all three had recovered and would soon be about.

Mr. Robinson also stated that, as an officer of the association, he had had, up to this time, twelve cases of yellow fever under his care. Of these three had died, six had recovered and gone to work again, and the remaining three were recovering rapidly.

But few of the cases now under the care of the association are rellow fever, and the reports from the wards show that the mortality in the yellow fever cases is decreasing, and that the fever itself is also on the wane.

The thanks of the association were tendered to Mr. C. Bart, of Market street, for the present of a box of lemons.

On motion the meeting then adjourned until Friday next.

A Public Nulsance. Numerous complaints are prevalent in the upper part of the city concerning the condition of a large lot in Sires alley, between Line and Shepherd streets. The lot is considerably lower than the street, and after every rain the water collects there in large quantities. The last rain was no exception to the rule, and the hot sun of the past two days, pouring its rays upon the stagnant water, has brought forth a myriad offensive colors, and promises a rich harvest ot malarial fevers. This lot has been a nulsance for months, and the people in dial steps should now be taken by the city authorities.

the neighborhood are anxious that some reme

That Pitt Street Nuisance. The foul pools in Pitt street, between Wentworth and Montague, have already been called to the attention of the authorities, and their efforts have abated the nulsance for a short time. It is again worse than ever, and can only be remedied by removing the cause. The street there needs a more efficient drain, and, until this is built, the water will collect and stagnate in the street. The stench arising from it is alarming to the whole neighborhood.

The Fever at Beaufort.

The Republican reports that there have been no new cases of yellow fever during the past week, and that the three cases before reported are doing well. At Bull River there has been only one case of fever, that of a mate, who contracted the disease in Bermuda.

THE CHARLESTON MOUNTED SOCIAL CLUB.-A meeting of this newly organized club was held last evening at the corner of King and Line streets, President B. W. McTureous in the chair, and W. M. Connor secretary. The roll was opened and several applicants, who were not present at the last meeting, were allowed to sign as members. The committee of three, who had been appointed to solicit subscriptions for paying for the arms of the club. reported that they had called on several citizens and had collected $210 in cash, and had been promised $25 more. This had been effected in but a short time, and their calls 1870, when he retired from the firm of had been responded to with all kindness by Crane, Boylston & Co. on account of his the citizens. An election for wardens was bad health. Since then Mr. Crane has then held with the following result: F. W. Pieper, first warden; M. Hogan, second war den; H. Buck, third warden; H. Kahrs, fourth warden, and L. Brantford, fifth warden. The sabres of the club are expected to-day, and the organization will parade within fifteen days. The reports show that the officers of the club have not been idle, and the uniforms and accoutrements are almost finished. The roll has already increased to near forty men, who pro mise a show of horsemanship at their parade not seen of late in Charleston. After the adjournment, the members and their guests sat down to a substantial collation, served in handsome style by Mr. C. Floethmann, and the in-characteristic of such occasions.

A SAVANNAH WAIF .- Mary Magrath, a white woman who came to this city about two weeks ago from Savannah, was arrested last evening sion, she acknowledges to have taken from visit to a female friend in his yard. Soon after she entered a house on East Bay during a rain for the ostensible purpose of keeping dry, and left with a suit of clothes belonging to her chance host. Henry Card and days ago from Barnwell County, whither he had fled from a warrant taken out against him by his wife, to whom he had there administered a severe castigation. As soon as the edge of his welcome was over, Edward bethought himself of a stout hickory staff, which he had cut in his exile, while nourishing sweet hopes of revenge. The wife saw the danger, and a disturbance ensued, and before he knew what was going on, Edward found himself in the hands of the police, and was locked up. His air of injured innocence worked wonders with the Mayor, and Edward was discharged. In the meantime, his wife JB Conby, Mrs Ber Mag wood, Manard David, Miss M A Mason, Mary Dickenson, Su Mason, Mary Dickenson, Su Mason, Mary Mensing, Augusta had taken out a warrant against him for a breach of the peace, and shortly after Edward was released from the Guardhouse he was accosted by Trial Justice Schroder's constable, San L

The prisoner was taken before Trial Justice Schroder, and committed to jail, charged with a breach of the peace and with an assault with a deadly weapon on the constable. The latter case will be tried at the Court of General Sessions.

The Cylinders are both revolved, and a number is taken from the Cylinder of numbers by a boy blindfolded, and one of the awards is taken from the Award Cylinder by a boy likewise blindfolded, both of which are exhibited to the spectators, and such number will be entitled to the award; and this operation will be repeated until 400 numbers are taken from the Number Cylinder and 400 Awards from the Award Cylinder to such numbers.

The Commissioners will enter down each number on their books as taken from the Cylinder numbers, and the awards to each as taken from the Award Cylinder.

The Rame will take place on the day and commence at the hour named; there will be no post-ponement whatever, and all the awards must be distributed.
